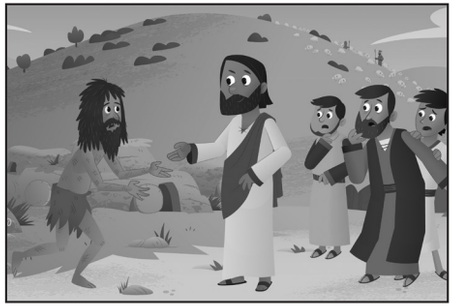
Jesus casts out evil spirits
Mark 5:1-20

Jesus and His disciples crossed the Sea of Galilee. They met a man with evil spirits, who lived in a cemetery. He yelled all the time and cut himself with stones.

Jesus told the spirits to leave. "Don't hurt us, Jesus!" the spirits cried. "My name is Many," said the man. "There are many evil spirits in me."



"Well, you have to leave him," said Jesus. "You have no choice." The evil spirits were scared. There was a large herd of pigs nearby. "Then send us into the pigs!"

Jesus let the evil spirits enter the pigs. The whole herd rushed down a steep bank into the lake and drowned!

The people who took care of the pigs told everyone in town what had happened. The townspeople came to the cemetery. They saw that Jesus had made the man well.

Frightened, the people begged Jesus to leave. The man asked to go with Jesus. Jesus replied, "Stay here. Tell everyone what I've done." The man did, and everyone was amazed!
